Buswell Library is grateful to receive donated materials that are suited to an academic library collection. Such materials should be in good condition, that is, clean and without much if any highlighting or marginalia. Please note that we are rarely interested in magazines, mass-market paperbacks, textbooks, books that treat their subject from a popular rather than scholarly point of view, or books that contain outdated information.

It’s a great idea to contact us before bringing us your donation. We can be reached at (630) 752-7104 or acquisitions@wheaton.edu. If you are interested in donating materials of rare or historical value, or that relate to the history of the college, please contact David Malone, Head of College Archives and Special Collections, at (630) 752-5707 or David.B.Malone@wheaton.edu. If you are interested in donating music recordings or scores, please contact Keith Eiten, Music Librarian, at (630) 752-5092 or Keith.D.Eiten@wheaton.edu.

If you would like a letter of acknowledgment for your donation, please tell us at the time you make the donation, and provide us with your name and address. If you would like the receipt to state the number of items you’ve given, please count the items before you give them to us, and let us know the number.

According to federal law, we are prohibited from setting a monetary value on your gift. If you would like to claim your donation on your income tax return, please consult http://www.irs.gov/taxtopics/tc506.html. If you wish to have your donation appraised, please complete the appraisal process before turning the material over to us.

The library reserves the right to dispose of all donated materials according to our professional judgment. This means that we may decide to keep, give away, or sell what you donate.

Thank you for your support of Buswell Library. Our collections have benefited greatly from our donors over the years.
